Plantation Shutters

Hometec Plantation Shutters are considered the finest window furnishings for Australian homes. Our qualified team has decades of experience working with plantation shutters, and will deliver the highest possible service throughout the entire measuring, production and installation process. We work closely with Blind Retailers, Interior Design Companies, Builders and Architects.

Hometec Plantation Shutters are manufactured with full eco friendly timber. Our timber is hand sourced and hand selected. We believe that if you purchase a timber shutter, it should be produced entirely with timber and not have inferior cores

Hometec Plantation Shutters natural timber stain range offers 20 different stain colours. Each stile and louvre is hand sanded and stained to ensure the natural timber grain is highlighted and shows the true beauty of the timber. A Custom Stain Colour can also be produced to colour match your décor.

Hometec Plantation Shutters are entirely custom made. Co-ordinate your shutters within your home to achieve the exact look you desire.

Hometec Plantation Shutters are not just aesthetically pleasing, they also offer insulation to keep warmth in your house during the colder months and the heat out if the house in the warmer months.

Dress your home with shutters to suit your modern, classic, period, traditional or any style of décor.

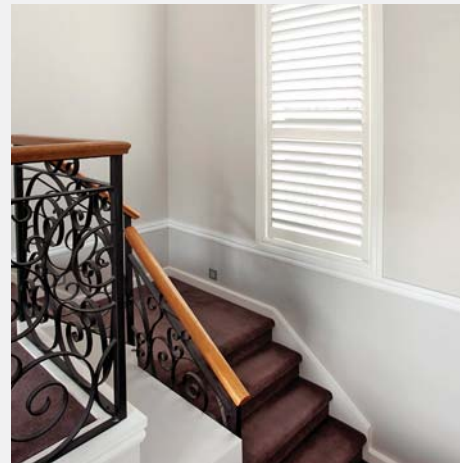

With many years of experience, Hometec plantation shutters paint finish has been refined to deliver a market leading end result. Hometec employ a 5 Coat Paint System to deliver our quality paint finish. For the first cost, we use a timber sealer to protect against moisture. This is then followed by 2 undercoats to protect against UV rays. We then finish with 2 thick coats of UV and moisture resistant top coats giving the shutter a smooth, grainless finish

Hometec Plantation Shutters can be installed on windows throughout the entire home, including bathrooms and wet areas. Hometec Plantation Shutters offer privacy, and at the same time allow light in and a view out.

Hometec Plantation Shutters offer a timeless style. They can be designed to work in with your homes facade and interior. They can give you a modern look, classic look, provincial look or any look you desire. By choosing colour, blade size, rotation, framing and hinging method, Hometec plantation shutters can meet your desired décor requirements.

Hometec Plantation Shutters specialize in the measuring and manufacturing of special shaped windows. Add beauty and value to your special shaped windows to highlight your home's unique attributes.
